

Dear parents and students,

Welcome back . Another season has started already and we are all ready to enjoy it fully.

Thanks to all my students for your warm goodbye note and gift and all who wished me a good luck for summer.

Now we have a new look in our studio. I hope you enjoy it and like it as your second shelter for being relaxed in for a while.

For the students who are registered already, the class will start from Sat,18 September at the same time as before. For those who have not decided yet, some days and hours are available. Our policy is based on first come, first served.

A quick reminder for those who were interested in Friday afternoon classes. This fall we have a new opening on Friday afternoons from 5.30 to 7.15 as well.

New

As new classes begin, we have new fees too. Our fee transfer has increased from $ 20 per session to $ 21 and the duration of each lesson has changed from 2 hours to 1 hour and 45 minutes.

if you need more information about our policy or our regulations, you may visit our website www.colorotopia.com.

Your registration must be completed before the first session of each term. Your on-time payment and organization affects our studio by saving us time and trouble. We would then be able to serve you better. For your convenience, you can make a pre-payment for any three terms. Please be advised that there is a $5 charge for any late payment.

We do not accept any absences or late arrivals for any sessions. We believe our art comes from our heart and our mind so our creativity is just as important as the other skills and capabilities in our life. SO YOU WILL GET NO CREDIT FOR ANY MISSING TIME OR DAY.

Once again we do not share our tools although we are best friends!!! So make sure students are coming to studio with proper tools.

Do not miss three important events in this year!

- We will have our exhibition this year in October, this is the one that was postponed from March.
- Also you are all invited to my own private exhibition this year. You may invite any friends and relatives; everyone is most welcome to attend.
- And the last good news is that we have a new plan to invite all the parents or friends to join our artistic party, it is free and fun but mandatory. So please make sure you do not miss next newsletter and put the date on your calendar after that.
